Do you intend to neuter your Open Gate puppy?      Yes                       No

If answered no, Open Gate removes any health guarantee that was given, due to the compromised security of the dog caused by excess hormones. The puppy must be neutered before reaching seven (7) months.

“Open Gate stands behind the genetic health of their puppies, offering a lifetime guarantee. If any congenital defect is documented by Buyer’s vet, Buyer must provide Open Gate documented proof within seven days, at which point Open Gate will take custody of the puppy and have our vet conduct a similar test. If Open Gate’s vet confirms the defect, Buyer will be entitled to a replacement puppy once one becomes available. The puppy with the genetic defect will be permanently returned to Open Gate, and Buyer promises to sign all paperwork required to do so.

This guarantee does not cover genetic issues that have been documented in the breed, or are generally occurring in small breeds.

Miniature Poodle Including but not limited to: hip dysplasia, progressive retinal atrophy, patellar luxation, legge-calve-perthes, patent ductus arteriosus, sebaceous adenitis, addisons disease, and glaucoma.

The disease does not have to be exclusive to poodles.”
